Dear Epoch Times team

On October 23, 2020 I began my paid subscription of the Epoch Times. It's no pure coincidence that this coincides with my general boycotting of both Australian and International mainstream news media, which as Joshua Philipp alluded to, masquerades as "diverse" media under the cloak of leftist agenda driven "pack" journalism. Just weeks ago, on his daily Q&A, one of his subscribers aptly declared that mainstream news media is now beyond just being fake news media, but rather "Corrupt Media," which prompted Josh to dub it as "Institutionalized Fake News," which I will henceforth refer to as IFN.

Due to the time difference with Australia's east coast, I usually cannot make it to Josh's Q&A live-stream, but when I do as "kulturedyobbo," (an Aussie play on the oxymoron) I make small donations (albeit, nothing like Jimmy Ling!) and a week or so before Christmas, I was able to get Josh's attention in regard to the ludicrous Tik Tok funded Facebook/Lead Stories censoring of his most recent and excellent documentary; 2020 Election Investigative Documentary: Who's Stealing America? (https://www.ntd.com/2020-election-investigation-who-is-stealing-america_540191.html) I must say, to my somewhat bewildering amusement, it went places I did not expect! (See <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=EI4zqaRG-sk> streamed on Friday December 18, 2020 from 45 minutes and 30 seconds in. Roman Balmakov also commented on this amusing turn in his "Facts Matter" at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FkFMxsowfVw> from 2 minutes and 33 seconds in on December 21, 2020. In regard to Tik Tok funded Lead Stories, see my New Year's day Facebook post at <https://www.facebook.com/vincent.barwinski/posts/10159094300441407>)

For years, before the outbreak of the CCP virus, I was aware of the toxic legacy of Mao Tse-dong, but with the opening up of China to western capitalism, naive stupid me thought they had changed. Apart from their bluster over Taiwan, which I love and have visited six times with my wife since 2003, I regarded the PRC as being communist in name only. However, the PRC culpability in the global spread of the CCP virus, either by malicious design or self-serving incompetence, their treatment of the Uighurs, forced human organ harvesting and the like being exposed for the whole world to see, albeit with many for whatever agenda, choosing to ignore, has compelled me to view this western opening up to the PRC, starting with Richard Nixon in the early 1970s, being nothing short of a catastrophic political disaster and miscalculation.

Admittedly, the modern day China has changed in one major respect from the days of Mao Tse-dong, in that it has evolved into a system of State Capitalism, but the repressions and obsession with total government control in every aspect of Chinese life, still remain. Indeed, under Xi Jinping, with his ramping up of religious repression, and temples dedicated to the worship of himself and his idol Mao, perhaps China is devolving into Cultural Revolution Mark II. (See <https://bitterwinter.org/burning-incense-and-kowtowing-to-chairman-mao/>. Joshua's Crossroads channel prompted me to seek this source out.)

In January to February 2020, in the midst of Chinese New Year, my wife and I were visiting family in Taiwan. We arrived back in Brisbane on the 22nd February, just before the virus really made itself felt globally in early to mid-March. In Taiwan, I followed the unfolding of events on NHK Japan's English language cable channel, from which my opinion of barely being aware of the WHO, transformed to one of sheer loathing. Not least of which being, Tedros' so-called fact-finding, but in reality, sycophant's mission to his unofficial Beijing overlords in late January 2020. As well, his obvious agitation in early February, when informed of Taiwan's decision to block all flights to and from the PRC, as viewed by myself on NHK at the time. As world events would all too soon transpire and vindicate; Taiwan's mistrust of the CCP and their unofficial mouthpiece the WHO was more than just mere prudence.

Taiwan, a democratic and ethnic Chinese Island nation, only half the size of Tasmania, but with the approximate population of Australia, namely 24 million, has had only seven deaths. This self-evident truth, for the IFN is hardly, if at all, ever mentioned, as it rightly portrays the CCP and the WHO in a very poor light. The false narrative of the "stunning success" of draconian CCP lockdowns spews forth amidst an all too gullible International IFN, suppressing the truth of democratic Taiwan's success. In Australia, the public Australian Broadcasting Commission (ABC) has been a perfect example of such global IFN suppression. Hence, my long overdue but irrevocable decision on November 6, 2020, to terminate my patronage of them for the rest of my life. In a boycott-declaration to them on November 30, I explained why, alluding to their unique brand of leftist hypocrisy, ubiquitous throughout the global IFN, of which they are just one tiny cog.

Hence, while the CCP virus, upon our return to Brisbane, was my reason for subscribing to Chris Chappell's China Uncensored channel, leading a few weeks later to my subscription to Joshua's Crossroads in mid-March, the immediate aftermath of the US 2020 election was my tipping point for my abandonment of the ABC and the global IFN in general. Their irrational and overt hatred of Donald Trump astonishes me, and the entire convoluted four-year episode of the so-called Trump-Russia-gate, never at any stage, held any meaningful credibility in my eyes. However, following the 2020 election, I could stomach them no more.

Before the US election, my Taiwanese wife said I was obsessed with the CCP. But now with the extraordinary and disturbing aftermath of US election 2020, it has ascended to whole new levels. In previous elections, it was unthinkable to think of the CCP and the US election being so disturbingly and inextricably linked, and the Constitutional Republic of the US, literally being on the brink of collapse to decades of darkness of extremist Socialist rule. The IFN globally, has been complicit in suppressing the overwhelming evidence of voter fraud, with the video released in early December, from election night in Farm Arena, Fulton County Georgia being perhaps the most blatant and quintessential example of Orwellian Deep State IFN suppression.

Disturbingly, after decades of gradual but insidious CCP subversion of America's institutions in general, and indeed throughout the entire free world, people who for their entire lives have only ever known mainstream media, accept as highly plausible, big-tech "fact" checkers assertions that FOX media and GOP observers left voluntarily, even when supposedly knowing, counting would still continue. In the early stages of the riots, in the wake of George Floyd's death, we were fed the ludicrous notion that the burning, pillaging and destruction were committed solely by white supremacists, as leftist groups such as BLM, Antifa, Freedom Road and the like protested "peacefully."

In short, in the complacent and misguided notion that America, the home of the free, could never become like the death throes of Weimar Germany, has permeated to such an extent, that people have lost all sense of critical thinking. The "Brown Shirt" brigade of BLM, Antifa, Freedom Road and the like, are portrayed as peaceful purveyors of change for a supposedly new and non-racist America. Of course, race is merely their pretext for the Marxist ideological subversion of America. Indeed, Trevor Loudon's three minute video at <https://vimeo.com/459567700> (See also <https://frso.org/?s=Yorek> and <https://frso.org/statements/minnesota-frso-may-day-celebration-we-are-up-against-a-real-monster-a-system-called-capitalism/>), shows two women from the upper-echelons of Freedom Road, proudly admitting to sparking the Minneapolis riots in the wake of George Floyd's death.

Moreover, Freedom Road Socialist Organization (FRSO) has sent at least four delegations to Venezuela in 2019 alone, (See the FRSO FightBack! article dated August 30, 2019 at <http://www.fightbacknews.org/2019/8/30/frso-labor-delegation-arrives-caracas-venezuela>) and on its website at <https://frso.org/main-documents/looking-back-at-tiananmen-square-the-defeat-of-counter-revolution-in-china/>, downplays the June 1989 Tiananmen Square massacre as the “defeat of counter-revolution in China.” This is whom the IFN tacitly support, while explicitly supporting BLM, who are more circumspect than FRSO, in declaring their ultimately Marxist agenda. That said, both are not shy declaring their most central pillars of defunding the police and cancel culture in general.

My father, an ethnic Pole, was born in Poland on December 2, 1923 into a devout Catholic family. They were you could say, the quintessential Polish family. However, nine months later, they crossed the border illegally into Weimar Germany, which had just recovered from the post-Great War hyperinflation and general chaos so typical of Weimar in its early years. Indeed, the next five years, preceding the Wall Street collapse, were known as Weimar’s Golden years, and Hitler’s cash-strapped National Socialist’s were regarded as a joke. As a young boy, with his father working in the coal mines near the Dutch border, Dad could still clearly remember Hitler’s rise to power and its ensuing evil. Central to this, was the thuggery of Hitler’s Brown Shirts or Sturmabteilung – Storm Troopers. And indeed, it is the likes of BLM, Freedom Road, Liberation Road and Antifa, that I see in many chilling respects, mirroring them in present day America. The recent timidity of SCOTUS in just blithely dismissing the Texas suit, seems reminiscent of terrified judges and politicians in the death throes of Weimar.

In August 2020, after four years of intensive and meticulous research, in concert with my professional editor in the last eighteen months, I completed my book titled The Pastor and The Matriarch of the German Underground and Their Times – A Polish Perspective. In great part, this book was conceived from my ten months in Poland from September 2004 to July 2005, teaching English in Radom south of Warsaw. In mid-February 2005, on a miserable afternoon in the modern-day Polish city of Wrocław, but pre-WWII German city of Breslau, outside the now Catholic church of Saint Elisabeth, I photographed a bronze cross monument.

It was dedicated to the anti-Nazi German Lutheran pastor Dietrich Bonhoeffer, himself born in Breslau on February 4, 1906 – ninety-nine years before my visit. At its foot, were tablets in German and Polish documenting and honoring his memory. More than a decade later, I finally embarked upon writing his story. In the process, I came to include the story of the remarkable Junker Matriarch Ruth von Kleist and her clan, who came to regard Dietrich like a son. Born in 1867, she shared the same birthday as Dietrich. With Ruth and her clan now in the story, and their lands between the wars bordering Poland’s Second Republic, I saw the opportunity to include the Polish perspective in the story, adding an enriching and unique element to the book.

In the IFN in today’s America, the distorted narrative espoused, is one of evil only ever spawning from the right. The left, no matter what thuggery, burning, pillaging, threats and intimidation they perpetrate, are always faultless and justified. With the Polish perspective, given for one thing, the infamous Molotov-Ribbentrop pact and its aftermath in eastern Poland, resulting in the deporting of 1.7 million Poles to Stalinist Gulags, these twin extremist evils of WWII are exposed. There was rightly, a Nuremberg for National Socialist crimes, but never any such judicial instrument for Communist crimes. Moreover, Mao Tse Tung was a most avid supporter of this pact, and even proposed what he termed; “A Polish solution for China,” embodying the elimination of Chiang Kai-shek and his Nationalist Army, and partitioning of China between his communists and the Japanese along the Yangtze. (See position 582.1 of Mao: The Unknown Story by Jung Chang and Jon Halliday, published by Vintage of the Random House Group, 2007, Epub ISBN 9781448156863.)

In my final days in Poland, I visited the Auschwitz Concentration Camp Museum, and with my own eyes, I witnessed a ton of human hair. In my book, I relate this to the modern day forced human organ harvesting perpetrated by the CCP. The modern day suppression of religion in the PRC, both traditional and western I compare to Dietrich and later Ruth's fight against the National Socialist bastardization of their Lutheran faith. But now, in light of the aftermath of George Floyd's death and the US election, the following has been impressed upon me.

Namely, events I have written and researched of in the past four years, in particular, the death throes of Weimar Germany, I feel, are now being played out in America. This is for me, a very eerie and foreboding feeling, to put it mildly. Four years ago, when I embarked upon this writer's journey, I believed Communism had been defeated, but following my first visit to Poland years before, and my passion for history – in particular that of National Socialism and Communism, I felt compelled to write, albeit as an amateur historian, but as a meticulously well researched one nevertheless. And yes, I inherited this passion from Dad, who never progressed beyond grade 6 in Weimar, but was an extraordinary autodidact, faithful reader of Alexander Solzhenitsyn and devout Catholic. As such, unlike today's IFN, he was able to instill in me, the sense of evil from both political extremes.

The twin and complimentary toxic entities of the IFN and the extreme left in America would have you believe they are the very antithesis of National Socialism. Molotov-Ribbentrop alone however, highlights how from September 1939, until Hitler embarked upon Operation Barbarossa – the invasion of the Soviet Union on June 22, 1941, Stalin and Hitler, in the true spirit of collaborative twin-ideological genocide, were committed to not just the dual invasion of Poland, but indeed, the very obliteration of Poland from existence.

Both extremes have what I term “agendas of exclusion.” For example, the Stalinist perpetrated Katyń Wood massacre of April 1940, as discussed in my book, was the calculated and deliberate murder of a nation's [Poland's] elite, simultaneously embodying classicide, with the intention of obliterating its political and creative energy for the future. From 1949, one could indeed infer this as mirroring the agenda of the CCP, but still today, there is for example, a neo-Stalinist professor at New Jersey's Montclair State University still espousing the Stalinist line of German guilt at Katyń, which I logically deconstruct in my book. For Hitler's Third Reich, the most obvious targets for exclusion were of course the Jews, but it of course extended to others deemed by the regime as not worthy of life, such as gypsies and the physically and mentally disabled. This was ramped up in August 1939, just preceding the outbreak of war, in what became known as the infamous T-4 program. And indeed, has not that loathsome woman AOC, been busy drawing up a list of retribution that was discussed by Chris Chappell on his America Uncovered Channel.

But curiously, Antifa regard her as a capitalist! (See <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=g0BKdRywTcg> from 23 minutes where Patrick Bet-David interviews a former Antifa member Gabriel Nades. The former interviewed Josh back in May.) Perhaps, if heaven forbid, Biden is inaugurated on January 20 as FEPOTUS – Fraudulently Elected President Of The United States, she may appear on Antifa's list. Indeed, by 1934, Hitler himself was on the Brown Shirts' hit list, for not taking the “Socialism” in National Socialism seriously, prompting what became known as Nacht der Langen Messer – Night of the Long Knives – the 48 hour purge of Ernst Röhm and his Brown Shirts by Heinrich Himmler's but Hitler loyalist SS in mid-1934. After, which, the Brown Shirts still held a presence, but never again attained anywhere near their former prestige, usurped from that point on by Himmler's SS.

In closing, I find the Epoch Times an heroic beacon of Truth and Tradition, in which the deception of agenda driven leftist “pack” journalism of the IFN is ubiquitous amidst a populace in great part robbed of its ability to think critically. Such is this state of affairs, that those driven by their extreme irrational hatred of Donald Trump, as they perceive of Biden and his cronies being preferable, simply because they are not Trump, makes me believe, that deep down, they know that fraud was ubiquitous in this election, but in finding this truth too horrible to confront, dare I say, the humiliating loss of face, can only conform to the demands of propaganda propagated by the IFN.

Finally, I wish to take the opportunity to wish you all at the Epoch Times, a happy new year and join you in hoping for President Trump to prevail on January 6, 2021. Indeed, the fate of the entire free-world depends on it.

Yours Sincerely

Vince Barwinski
